Notice

Users of this text should always consult the synoptic texts in SIP 2 for the exact reading of the blocks. The restored text in this volume differs from the synoptic texts in several respects: A simplified apparatus has been used; The synoptic texts contain no restorations of complete words, even when the restoration is certain (e.g. in the lists of dignitaries); The restored text contains both certain and conjectural restorations; The translation is based upon the restored text.

The restored text and the translation have been divided into paragraphs to show the structure of the text and to provide a frame of reference. In unclear passages the division into paragraphs does not necessarily agree with the contextual divisions, but is also for the sake of reference.

In order to remind the readers of the many uncertainties in the textual restorations and the translation I have been liberal in the use of queries (?).

The inscription is quoted by line number or by block number thus:

11 B 4,06 or B 4,06 = 11, i.e. line no. 11 of the MP (capital letter: B) version, block B4, and line 6 of that block.

Parallel passages are quoted as follows:

13/12 C 10,02 'ltyk = Pa b 2,06 zbnk, i.e. MP version 13, block C 10, and line 2 of that block correspond to Pa line 12, block b2 (lower case: b), and line 6 of that block. (Both line numbers are quoted even when one version is missing or omitted.)

Paraphrase of the inscription

The Paikuli inscription is comprised of three parts: introduction, main part, and conclusion. The main part can be divided into three: 1. An account of the events taking place before Narseh and the Iranian dignitaries meet at Paikuli; 2. An account of the events leading to the surrender of Warahrān, King of Sakas, and the punishment of Wahnām; 3. The negotiations between Narseh and the dignitaries regarding the succession to the throne of Iran, leading to Narseh's acceptance of the Kingship.

I. Introduction §§ 1-2

- §1 The genealogy of Narseh is given in the common pattern of the other Sassanian royal inscriptions.
§2 The reason for raising the monument(?).

II Main Part §§ 3-90

1. From the death of Warahrān II until the meeting of Narseh and the dignitaries at Paikuli (§§ 3-32)

- §3 Narseh, King of Armenia, was staying in Armenia when Warahrān II, King of Kings of Iran, died.
§4 His son, Warahrān, King of Sakas, was crowned by Wahnām, son of Tatrus, but Narseh was not informed of this.
§§5-9 Wahnām (?) informed the dignitaries, advising them to accept Warahrān as King of Kings and adding threats against those who would oppose him.
§§10-15 Council and deliberations of the dignitaries.
§§16-18 A group of dignitaries, headed by some of the foremost members of the royal court and members of the leading families wrote to Narseh asking him to come from Armenia and take back his throne and the divine honours of his forefathers, which had been usurped by evildoers.
§§19-21 Narseh set out for Iran, sending messengers in advance to inform his own adherents and others that he was coming.
§§22-31 Narseh instructed (?) the Hargbed to send the Lord of Undīgān to the border of Xūzestān to guard (?) the passage to Asōrestān (the royal province with the royal capital Ctesiphon). The Lord of Undīgān was instructed to offer Warahrān and Wahnām a truce, and if they accepted, to refrain from fighting, take them to Asōrestān, and settle them there until Narseh arrived.
§32 Narseh and the dignitaries then met at Paikuli

2. The actions of Warahrān and Wahnām until the surrender of Warahrān and the punishment of Wahnām and others (§§33-62)

- §33 On hearing of this, Warahrān and Wahnām marched from Xūzestān towards Armenia (?).
§§34-37 By letter, Wahnām enlisted the help of Ādurfarrōbay, King of Mēšān . . .
§§38-39 The King of Mēšān went forth to assist them.

- §40 Ardaxšer the Hazārbed (?) called upon the King of Kings (? = Narseh?) for assistance.
- §§41-43 The King of Mēšān (?), Wahnām and their supporters paid homage to Warahrān and swore allegiance.
- §§44-46 Various developments. Desertion of some of the troops. They came to the Lord of Undīgān who sent them to Narseh.
- §§47-50 Narseh wrote a letter to Warahrān, pointing out that he had no right to take the throne in such an inappropriate way. His followers had deserted him, and so he should come to Narseh and give himself up.
- §§51-52 Warahrān then surrendered.
- §§53-55 When Wahnām saw that his cause was a lost one, he realized his defeat and his plight . . .
- §§56-59 Wahnām was captured by a party sent by Narseh for that purpose, and was, in a degrading manner, sent back to him.
- §60 Warahrān learnt about the capture of Wahnām.
- §§61-62 Narseh took measures to punish the rebels.

3. The correspondence between Narseh and the dignitaries over the succession, and Narseh's acceptance of the throne (§§63-90)

- §63 Narseh called for a meeting.
- §§64-73 Narseh wrote to the dignitaries, reminding them of what had been the procedure from Ardaxšer I onwards in determining who was the most suitable to become King of Kings of Iran
- §§74-82 The dignitaries answered that considering the question of succession in light of the earlier procedures, they had reached the conclusion that Narseh was indeed the most suitable to become King of Kings of Iran.
- §§83-85 Narseh then wrote to the dignitaries a second time, asking them to satisfy themselves absolutely that he indeed fulfilled all the requirements of the ancient formula.
- §§86-89 The dignitaries answered that this was surely the case. Would Narseh please accept the throne!
- §90 Narseh then accepted the throne.

III. Conclusion §§91-95

- §91 There was peace and friendship with Rome
- §92 Enumeration of the kings who acknowledged Narseh as King of Kings.
- §93 Lesser rulers
- §94-95 Narseh claimed the whole realm anew and dealt in befitting fashion with everyone.

[This?] monument [(is)...Nar?]seh.
And for this reason (?) did we [erect?] the monument [and] place [(it) here?] that [concerning?]
us (?) [it should be known that?]:
